

Future Building 2022 Cancellation Notice

In response to recent trends that show an alarming increase in COVID-19 infections and the uncertainty around remote learning and indoor events of this magnitude, we are extremely disappointed to notify you that Future Building 2022 has been cancelled.

We had anticipated to be able to meet safely in person this spring, but if we learned anything over the last two years, it is how rapidly the pandemic develops.

Though Future Building 2022 will no longer take place, we continue to strive towards bringing this one-of-a-kind event back, when it is safe to do so, giving young career seekers hands-on exposure to more than 25 skilled construction trades and will share information later once we have more certainty.

If you have any questions or concerns, do not hesitate to reach out to Vanessa Milburn, Communications and Engagement Lead, at vmilburn@iciconstruction.com.

